

U.S. HISTORY HACK™

Unit Assessment Book

Unit 3 — Imperialism and World War I (1890–1920) • Teacher Edition

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Three parts: (1) Formative Checkpoints — a short check per standard for progress monitoring (MTSS); (2) Unit Summative — two parallel forms (A and B) for pre/post or retakes; (3) Teacher Answer Key + Item Analysis + Reteach.

All items are pulled from the History Hack question bank. Classroom-formative • pre-field-test (pre-calibration) — not a secure TCAP form. First administration is what calibrates these items.

Administering these forms is what generates the response data to CALIBRATE the pre-calibrated items — the first cycle of use closes the loop.

Keys and reteach live in this teacher book only — reproduce the student sections (formative + Form A/B) without the key section.

Contents

Part 1 — Formative Checkpoints (by standard)

A quick DOK-balanced check for each standard. Use for progress monitoring; reteach routing is in the Teacher Key.

US.19 — Causes of American Imperialism

1. What economic factors drove American imperialism in the late 19th and early 20th centuries? [US.19 •

DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Need for raw materials, new markets for surplus goods, and investment opportunities abroad
- B. Desire to reduce American manufacturing output, but the historical record tells a more complex story
- C. Fear of domestic economic growth, which represents a common misconception about the period
- D. Wish to import European political systems, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome

2. How did the belief in spreading American democratic and moral ideals justify imperial expansion?

[US.19 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Americans rejected any moral justification for expansion, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation and does not reflect the scholarly consensus on this topic
- B. Concepts like "White Man's Burden," Social Darwinism, and extended Manifest Destiny held that Americans had a duty to spread civilization and Christianity
- C. Americans believed other nations were already democratic, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome and fails to account for key developments in the broader context
- D. Moral ideals played no role in imperial arguments, which does not align with the documented historical record and does not reflect the scholarly consensus on this topic

US.20 — Interventionists vs Non-Interventionists

1. What arguments did interventionists make for American overseas expansion and involvement? [US.20 •

DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Economic benefits from overseas markets, strategic naval positions, moral duty to spread democracy, and competition with European powers
- B. America should withdraw from all international affairs, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation
- C. The Constitution prohibited any foreign involvement, but this oversimplifies the complex factors at work
- D. America lacked the military capability for expansion, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors

2. How did non-interventionists challenge the case for American imperialism? [US.20 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. They supported all forms of expansion, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence, which represents a common misconception about this historical period
- B. They argued imperialism violated constitutional principles, was costly, contradicted democratic ideals, and went against Washington's warning about foreign entanglements
- C. They had no organized opposition, despite limited evidence supporting this interpretation, which does not align with the documented historical record
- D. They only opposed economic expansion, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture

US.21 — Spanish-American War & Imperialism Outcomes

1. What specific events and factors led to the outbreak of the Spanish-American War in 1898? [US.21 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. The Cuban rebellion, USS Maine explosion, de Lôme Letter, yellow journalism coverage, and humanitarian concerns combined to push America toward war
- B. Only the sinking of the Maine caused the war, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence and does not reflect the scholarly consensus on this topic
- C. Spain declared war on the United States first, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome, but closer analysis reveals a more complicated historical reality
- D. Economic factors played no role in the conflict, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence

2. How did American victories result in territorial acquisitions like Hawaii, the Philippines, and influence over Cuba? [US.21 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. America gained no new territories, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome, which represents a common misconception about this historical period
- B. Hawaii was annexed for its strategic Pearl Harbor base, the Treaty of Paris transferred Philippines, Puerto Rico, and Guam, and the Platt Amendment gave the U.S. control over Cuban affairs
- C. Spain voluntarily gave all territories to America, but this oversimplifies the complex factors at work when examined alongside the available primary and secondary sources
- D. Only Cuba became American territory, which does not align with the documented historical record, but contemporary accounts and primary sources suggest otherwise

US.22 — Diplomatic Policies: Big Stick, Dollar, and Moral Diplomacy

1. How did Theodore Roosevelt's "Big Stick" diplomacy use military strength to achieve foreign policy goals? [US.22 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Roosevelt backed diplomacy with credible military force, demonstrated by the Great White Fleet, while acting as mediator and using the Roosevelt Corollary to justify Latin American interventions
- B. Roosevelt avoided any military threats, which represents a common misconception about the period, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this
- C. Roosevelt relied only on economic pressure, which does not align with the documented historical record, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture, which does not align with the documented historical record
- D. Roosevelt never used military demonstrations, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence and oversimplifies the complex factors at work during this period

2. What were the key features of Taft's "Dollar Diplomacy" and how did it differ from Roosevelt's approach? [US.22 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Dollar Diplomacy was identical to Big Stick Diplomacy, which does not align with the documented historical record when examined alongside the available primary and secondary sources
- B. Taft used American economic investment and financial leverage instead of military threat, believing economic influence was more effective and less costly, though it often still required military backup
- C. Taft rejected all forms of intervention, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era when examined alongside the available primary and secondary sources
- D. Dollar Diplomacy focused on moral values, although historical sources do not support this conclusion, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors involved

US.23 — Causes of World War I & U.S. Neutrality

1. How did militarism, alliances, imperialism, and nationalism (MAIN) create conditions for World War I?

[US.23 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Military buildups created tension, alliances turned local conflicts into continental wars, imperial competition bred rivalry, and nationalism inflamed ethnic conflicts—together creating explosive conditions
- B. Only one factor caused World War I, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence and fails to account for key developments in the broader context
- C. These factors prevented war, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors and fails to account for key developments in the broader context, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture
- D. World War I began without any underlying causes, but this fails to account for the broader historical context and does not reflect the scholarly consensus on this topic and oversimplifies the complex factors at work during this period

2. What specific events triggered the outbreak of war in Europe in 1914? [US.23 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. War began without any triggering event, yet the available evidence points to a different conclusion, which represents a common misconception about this historical period
- B. The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand activated the alliance system, with Austria-Hungary attacking Serbia, Russia mobilizing, Germany supporting Austria, and France and Britain entering
- C. The United States started the war, but this fails to account for the broader historical context, which ignores significant political and cultural developments of the era
- D. Economic competition alone caused the war, yet the available evidence points to a different conclusion and oversimplifies the complex factors at work during this period

US.24 — Reasons for American Entry into World War I

1. How did German submarine warfare, particularly unrestricted submarine warfare, push America toward war? [US.24 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Attacks like the Lusitania sinking killed Americans and violated international law, and resumption of unrestricted warfare in 1917 threatened all American shipping, leading Wilson to sever relations
- B. Submarine warfare had no effect on American opinion, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence and fails to account for key developments in the broader context
- C. Germany never used submarines against American ships, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era
- D. Americans supported German submarine warfare, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era

2. What was the Zimmermann Telegram, and why did it outrage American public opinion? [US.24 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. It was a routine diplomatic communication, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era
- B. Germany proposed an alliance with Mexico offering to return Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, making German threat seem direct and immediate to Americans
- C. It was a peace proposal from Germany, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors, although historical sources do not support this conclusion

D. Americans did not react to the telegram, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this

US.25 — Key Figures and Developments in World War I

1. How did trench warfare and new military technologies change the nature of combat in World War I?

[US.25 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Trenches created deadly stalemate while machine guns, poison gas, artillery, aircraft, and tanks made warfare far more destructive, resulting in massive casualties for minimal gains
- B. Combat remained unchanged from previous wars, despite the fact that multiple sources contradict this view, and this view has been largely revised by modern historical research
- C. New technologies ended the war quickly, but this fails to account for the broader historical context when examined alongside the available primary and secondary sources
- D. Trench warfare was only used briefly, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation, but closer analysis reveals a more complicated historical reality

2. What contributions did Herbert Hoover, John J. Pershing, and Alvin C. York make to the American war effort?

[US.25 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. None of these figures contributed to the war, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era
- B. Hoover organized food production and relief, Pershing commanded American forces maintaining independence from Allied command, and York became a hero through individual combat achievement
- C. They all served in the same military unit, although historical sources do not support this conclusion despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this
- D. Their contributions were limited to the home front, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors, which does not align with the documented historical record

US.26 — World War I Home Front

1. How did World War I expand federal government power over the American economy and society?

[US.26 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. New agencies controlled production, the draft conscripted millions, and the Espionage and Sedition Acts restricted speech, giving the federal government unprecedented authority
- B. Government power decreased during the war, which contradicts the primary source evidence from this era and fails to account for key developments in the broader context
- C. Only the military expanded, although this overlooks critical economic and social factors and oversimplifies the complex factors at work during this period
- D. State governments controlled the war effort, which ignores key developments that shaped the outcome despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this

2. What new opportunities did the war create for women and minorities, and what limitations did they still face?

[US.26 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. No new opportunities emerged, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation and oversimplifies the complex factors at work during this period, although historical sources do not support this conclusion
- B. Women gained industrial jobs and strengthened suffrage arguments while African Americans found northern factory jobs, though both faced continued discrimination and were expected to return to prewar roles

- C. Women and minorities faced no discrimination, although historical sources do not support this conclusion, which represents a common misconception about this historical period
- D. Only men participated in the war effort, which represents a common misconception about the period, though this interpretation lacks supporting historical evidence despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this

US.27 — Wilson's Fourteen Points and League of Nations

1. What were the main principles of Wilson's Fourteen Points, and how did they reflect his vision for post-war peace? [US.27 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Wilson promoted open diplomacy, free trade, arms reduction, self-determination, and a League of Nations to prevent future wars through collective security rather than harsh punishment
- B. Wilson supported punishing Germany harshly, which does not align with the documented historical record and fails to account for key developments in the broader context
- C. Wilson's plan focused only on territorial changes, but the historical record tells a more complex story, but contemporary accounts and primary sources suggest otherwise
- D. The Fourteen Points supported American isolation, yet the available evidence points to a different conclusion, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture

2. Why did the United States Senate reject American membership in the League of Nations? [US.27 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. The Senate unanimously supported the League, but contemporary accounts suggest a different explanation despite the fact that multiple contemporary sources contradict this
- B. Concerns about sovereignty, Article X commitments to defend other nations, fear of foreign entanglements, Wilson's refusal to compromise, and partisan opposition led to rejection
- C. Americans supported isolationism without debate, yet the available evidence points to a different conclusion, but contemporary accounts and primary sources suggest otherwise
- D. Only economic factors caused rejection, despite the fact that multiple sources contradict this view, but the historical evidence paints a more nuanced picture

- C. Turning a regional conflict into a continent-wide war
- D. Allowing smaller nations to dominate larger European powers

14. The United States initially declared neutrality in World War I because: [US.23 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Ethnic tensions and nationalist movements created instability in multi-ethnic empires
- B. The buildup of large armies and weapons created tensions and an arms race
- C. German submarine attacks on ships carrying American passengers and goods
- D. Americans were divided in their sympathies and preferred to avoid European conflicts

15. The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand was significant because: [US.23 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. It triggered the alliance system that led to European war
- B. It ended the European arms race by shocking great powers into negotiations
- C. It was carried out by American anarchists operating through a Balkan network
- D. It directly caused Austria-Hungary to declare war on Serbia within 24 hours

16. The Zimmermann Telegram was significant because it: [US.24 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Suggested American neutrality was no longer necessary
- B. Offered Germany support from American businesses
- C. Proposed a peace settlement between warring nations
- D. Revealed a German plot to ally with Mexico against the United States

17. Based on the passage, how did the Zimmermann Telegram influence American entry into World War I? [US.24 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Revealed German plans to ally with Mexico against the U.S
- B. His proposal that a fair peace required no winners or losers
- C. The deaths of 128 Americans turned opinion against Germany
- D. Wilson's 1916 re-election campaign emphasizing neutrality in WWI

18. Analyze how the Zimmermann Telegram changed American public opinion about the war: [US.24 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. It showed that Germany was ready to negotiate a peaceful settlement
- B. It proved that Germany posed a direct threat to American security
- C. It demonstrated British propaganda efforts to manipulate American opinion
- D. It revealed that Mexico was planning to invade the United States

19. The introduction of poison gas on the Western Front during WWI was significant because: [US.25 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. It added a terrifying new dimension to industrial warfare
- B. It proved immediately decisive, ending the trench warfare stalemate within months
- C. It was immediately prohibited by international law after the first gas attack
- D. Only Germany used poison gas, giving it a decisive tactical advantage

20. How did trench warfare on the Western Front change the nature of combat compared to earlier 19th-century wars? [US.25 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Trench warfare enabled rapid advances by infantry units and led to the quick resolution of most battles
- B. Trench warfare created a defensive stalemate in which millions of soldiers suffered massive casualties for minimal territorial gain
- C. Trench warfare eliminated the need for artillery by providing soldiers with protected positions from which to fight

D. Trench warfare was only used on the Eastern Front and did not affect US soldiers fighting in France

21. What was trench warfare? [US.25 • DOK 1 • pre-field-test]

- A. African American regiment that never lost ground in combat
- B. Fresh American troops tipped the balance toward the Allies
- C. Fighting from fortified ditches creating deadly stalemates
- D. Warship escorts for merchant ships reduced U-boat losses

22. How did the Committee on Public Information (CPI) affect American public opinion during World War I? [US.26 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. It conducted objective surveys of public opinion that the government used to make wartime policy decisions
- B. It used propaganda posters, films, and speeches to generate patriotic support for the war and suppress dissent
- C. It organized voluntary rationing programs that reduced civilian consumption of essential war materials
- D. It served as an independent media watchdog that ensured accurate wartime reporting by American newspapers

23. What was the Espionage Act of 1917? [US.26 • DOK 1 • pre-field-test]

- A. Laws restricted speech and targeted dissenters harshly
- B. To raise money from citizens to finance the war effort
- C. A law punishing interference with military recruitment
- D. It mobilized civilians to conserve food patriotically

24. What was the Sedition Act of 1918? [US.26 • DOK 1 • pre-field-test]

- A. Reduce consumption of certain foods to ensure adequate supplies for troops
- B. To use propaganda to build and maintain public support for the war
- C. Fear of radical political movements and suppression of suspected communists
- D. A law making it illegal to criticize the government, flag, or military

25. The United States rejected membership in the League of Nations primarily because: [US.27 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Congress opposed Wilson's leadership on foreign policy
- B. The League was too powerful and threatened American sovereignty
- C. Americans supported isolationism and feared foreign entanglements
- D. Americans believed the League would not be effective

26. The Senate's rejection of the League of Nations reflected: [US.27 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. Public rejection of Wilson's peace program as demonstrated by the 1920 presidential election, which Wilson framed as a national referendum on the League
- B. Military opposition from top generals and admirals who feared League collective security obligations would limit American strategic planning autonomy
- C. Nearly universal American public opposition to any form of international engagement following the enormous human and financial costs of WWI
- D. A combination of constitutional concerns about surrendering war powers, partisan opposition to Wilson, and deep isolationist tradition

27. The failure of the U.S. to join the League of Nations weakened the organization primarily because:

[US.27 • DOK 2 • pre-field-test]

- A. The U.S. was the world's largest economy and a major military power; its absence removed the economic and military weight needed to make League sanctions and collective security threats credible to aggressive nations
- B. Without U.S. membership, Britain and France both refused to honor their League collective security commitments, effectively preventing the organization from functioning as a military alliance
- C. Without the U.S. financial contribution, the League was unable to fund its Secretariat, international court system, or peacekeeping operations adequately
- D. The U.S. Senate's rejection of the treaty meant no signatory nation was legally obligated to comply with League resolutions or accept its arbitration decisions

Part 4 — Teacher Answer Key + Item Analysis + Reteach

READING THE ANALYSIS

Each item shows its standard, DOK, correct key, and TCAP reporting category, plus a reteach move. Distractor-based routing: a wrong choice signals which idea to reteach — pair with the workbook Cornell notes and Guided Support. Classroom-formative • pre-field-test (pre-calibration) — not a secure TCAP form. First administration is what calibrates these items.
