The Executive Branch

COURSE STANDARD EDITION

GC.16–GC.18 • Tennessee U.S. Government & Civics
Standards • Grades 9–12

★ TENNESSEE CONNECTION

Tennessee has sent three of its own to the presidency: Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk, and Andrew Johnson all built their careers in Tennessee before reaching the White House. Andrew Johnson's presidency ended in the first impeachment trial of a President — a direct test of the checks on executive power studied in this unit (GC.16).

*One common workbook designed for learner variability.
Every student works toward the same Tennessee standards; supports vary the means, not the goal or the ceiling.*

Source integrity. Every primary source in this unit is public-domain and cited to its holding repository (National Archives, Library of Congress). See the Source Library.

Reading provenance (district-clear). Close-Read passages are labeled “Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis” — they build on the standard record and are not presented as primary sources.

Framework stack. This workbook anchors to Tennessee U.S. Government & Civics standards GC.16–GC.18 and the Social Studies Practices (SSP.01–SSP.06), and is designed on CAST UDL 3.0 and an MTSS support model.

Pacing. Each standard is built for one 45-minute class period. Each activity shows a 🕒 ~ minutes estimate at its heading. There is more here than one period holds — your teacher chooses which activities you do in class; the rest may become warm-ups, stations, or homework.

How to Use This Workbook

Each standard runs the same seven-activity cycle: (1) Vocabulary Word Bank, (2) Vocabulary Studio, (3) Direct-Teaching Cornell Notes with optional Guided and Light Support Backs, (4) Close Read, (5) Primary Source / Data Analysis, (6) Core Application Practice Quiz, (7) Constructed Response (CER). Work the CORE PATH; reach for SUPPORT OPTIONS as needed.

Label	Meaning
CORE PATH	The essential instruction every student completes.
SUPPORT OPTION	An optional scaffold that keeps the goal, not lowers it.
LANGUAGE SUPPORT	Vocabulary, pronunciation, and Spanish cognates for access.
RESPONSE CHOICE	Show learning by writing, saying/recording, or diagramming.
PROGRESS CHECK	A quick DOK-2/3 check that guides reteach or extend.
EXTENSION	A deeper challenge once the goal is met.

Before You Begin — Set a S.M.A.R.T. Goal

Strong learners set goals — but a goal only helps if it is built well. First learn how, then write yours.

WHAT MAKES A GOAL STRONG? Build it S.M.A.R.T.

S — Specific: say exactly what you will be able to do (“explain how a bill becomes law,” not “do well”).

M — Measurable: how will you PROVE it? — a score, a diagram, or teaching a partner.

A — Achievable: a real stretch you can reach with effort — not too easy, not impossible.

R — Relevant: it connects to this unit’s big question.

T — Time-bound: name WHEN — “by the end of this unit.”

SEE THE DIFFERENCE

Weak: “I want to do good in government.” (vague — nothing to measure)

S.M.A.R.T.: “By the end of this unit I can explain how the three branches check each other, and prove it by teaching a partner and scoring 80%+ on the check.”

This unit’s big question: How much power should one person hold — and how is the presidency kept in check?

BUILD YOURS — write each piece on the lines, then combine them at the bottom

Fill in each part of your goal. Use the lines.

Part of my goal	Write your piece on the lines
S — Specific: what exactly will I be able to do?
M — Measurable: how will I prove it? (a score, a diagram, teaching a partner)

A — Achievable: what effort will it take to reach it?
R — Relevant: how does it connect to the big question above?
T — Time-bound: by when?
PUT IT TOGETHER — my S.M.A.R.T. goal in one or two sentences:

Standard GC.16 — Article II & the Presidency

TN Academic Standard GC.16: Analyze Article II of the U.S. Constitution as it relates to the executive branch, including: appointments; Commander-in-chief of the military; eligibility for office; executive orders; length of term (22nd Amendment); oath of office; powers of the president; succession (25th Amendment); treaties. (H)

LEARNING TARGETS — I can...

- I can analyze Article II — the qualifications, powers, roles, term, and succession of the President..

Lenses for this standard: History (H)

CORE PATH — the same for every student

Every student works this standard at the same rigor: analyze the sources and vocabulary, then show what you learned on the Practice Quiz and the CER. Check yourself against the learning targets on the Cornell Notes page. Supports for each step are on the back of this page.

SET YOUR GOAL (self-direction)

My goal for this standard — what will I be able to do, and how will I show it? (Need help? See the back of this page.)

HOOK — think before you dig in

One person commands the world's most powerful military — yet cannot make a treaty or hire a cabinet officer alone. Who holds the leash?

ACTIVATE — what do you already know or wonder?

Jot what you already know or want to find out about this standard. You'll come back to it.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — before you dig in (you'll revisit this at the end)

In your own words: what do you think this standard is about, and why might it matter to you or your community? Write 2–3 sentences.

Getting Started — supports for this page

— GC.16

WHAT “CORE PATH” MEANS

Everyone learns the same standard at the same level. “Support options” are just extra ways in — sentence starters, an example, a partner, or recording your answer. They help you reach the bar; they never lower it.

SET YOUR GOAL — how to write a strong one

Example goal: “By the end of this standard I can explain ___ and prove it by scoring 80%+ on the quiz.”

How to build it: name what you’ll DO, then how you’ll PROVE it, then WHEN.

Sentence starters: “I want to be able to...” “I’ll show it by...” “By the end of this standard...”

HOOK — sentence starters

“I think the big question is...” “This connects to...” “I wonder why...” “At first I believe...”

ACTIVATE — what it means & how to answer

What it means: “Activate” = wake up what you ALREADY know before you learn more.

Sentence starters: “I already know...” “This reminds me of...” “I want to find out...”

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — what to write

Just your honest first take — there is no wrong answer. Say what you THINK the standard is about and why it might matter to you, your family, or your community. You’ll come back and improve it at the end.

Guided Support for the Cornell Notes — GC.16

These scaffolds support ONLY the Cornell notes — use them to take and process those notes. Optional and easy to set aside; not a separate assignment or a label.

Key vocabulary	What it means
Commander-in-Chief	The President's role as civilian head of the U.S. armed forces, ensuring the military answers to elected leadership.
Executive Order	A directive from the President that manages the operations of the federal government and has the force of law, though it cannot override the Constitution or statute.

Commander-in-Chief
Executive Order
Succession

Guiding questions — answer on the lines below (or in your front notes):

- What does the President's oath promise, and why put that promise in the Constitution?
- How do the Senate's 'Advice and Consent' powers check the President?
- How do the 22nd and 25th Amendments limit or stabilize the presidency?

WHICH CUE STILL NEEDS WORK?

Circle the Cornell cue from the front page you still need help with, and tell your teacher so we can go over it.

LIGHT PROCESSING LAB

Answer one guiding question from above in a full sentence, in your own words.

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.16 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

Article II creates a single President — the head of the executive branch — and lists both the powers and the limits of the office. To serve, a President must be a natural-born citizen, at least 35, and a U.S. resident for 14 years, and must swear the oath to 'preserve, protect and defend the Constitution.' The powers are real: the President is Commander-in-Chief of the military (a civilian in charge of the armed forces), makes treaties and appointments — but only with the Senate's 'Advice and Consent' — and can issue executive orders to direct the government. Yet every power is checked. Terms are limited to two by the 22nd Amendment; the 25th Amendment sets the order of succession if the office is vacated; and Congress can impeach and remove a President. The office is powerful by design, and limited by design.

LANGUAGE SUPPORT

Key terms to know first: Commander-in-Chief, Executive Order. Read once for the gist, then again for evidence.

Text-dependent questions (answer in the Evidence Lab below or aloud):

1. What does the President's oath promise, and why put that promise in the Constitution?
2. How do the Senate's 'Advice and Consent' powers check the President?
3. How do the 22nd and 25th Amendments limit or stabilize the presidency?

RESPONSE CHOICE: answer any question by writing in the Evidence Lab, saying/recording it, or diagramming it.

[DOK 1 · item u4-gc16-dok1-1 · pre-field-test]

The 22nd Amendment limits a President to how many elected terms?

- A. One
- B. Two
- C. Three
- D. No limit

[DOK 2 · item u1-gc16-dok2-tc · pre-field-test]

Which check on the President is built into the treaty and appointment powers of Article II?

STRETCH — think like a test-writer (open to all)

Write your OWN DOK-3 question for this standard, then a one-sentence answer key. Use the supports below — everyone can do this.

HOW TO WRITE A DOK-3 QUESTION (supports)

DOK-3 = strategic thinking: the reader must analyze, compare, evaluate, or justify using evidence — and there should be more than one defensible answer (not a fact you can just look up).

Sentence starters: “Why did _____ lead to _____?” ·

“Which mattered more — _____ or _____ — and why?” ·
“What is the BEST evidence that _____?” · “Evaluate whether _____.” · “Defend or challenge: _____.”

Frame: [Analyze / Evaluate / Justify] + [something from
THIS standard] + “using evidence.”

Quick check: does my question make the reader THINK and use evidence? If yes, it’s DOK-3.

NOW WRITE YOUR DOK-3 QUESTION HERE

Activity 7 — Constructed Response (CER)

— GC.16 ~15 min

4 — Strong	Precise, defensible	2+ accurate, specific	Explains HOW evidence proves the claim
3 — Proficient	Clear	2 accurate	Explains the link
2 — Developing	General	1 accurate	Partial link

Guided Support for the Cornell Notes — GC.17

These scaffolds support ONLY the Cornell notes — use them to take and process those notes. Optional and easy to set aside; not a separate assignment or a label.

Key vocabulary	What it means
Bureaucracy	The departments, agencies, and employees of the executive branch that carry out and administer federal laws and programs day to day.
Cabinet	The group of the heads (secretaries) of the executive departments who advise the President.
Iron Triangle	The close relationship among a federal agency, a congressional committee, and interest groups that shapes policy in a specific area.

Break it into steps:

- 1) Name one cause or effect.
- 2) Give one piece of evidence.
- 3) Write one sentence explaining the link.

Sentence frame

One key cause/effect of departments of the executive branch was _____, shown by _____, which mattered because _____.

Modeled example (one worked note — yours will differ)

A key idea of departments of the executive branch was Bureaucracy: The departments, agencies, and employees of the executive branch that carry out and administer federal laws and programs day to day.

Guiding questions — answer on the lines below (or in your front notes):

- What does the Take Care Clause require of the President, and why does that create a need for departments?
- Match each of the five major departments to the kind of problem it handles.
- What is an 'iron triangle,' and how might it shape policy?

WHICH CUE STILL NEEDS WORK?

LIGHT PROCESSING LAB

sentence, in your own words.

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.17 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The Constitution makes the President responsible to 'take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed' — but no one person can run a country of over 330 million people. So the executive branch is organized into departments, each led by a secretary who sits in the President's Cabinet. Five of the major departments show the range of the job: State manages foreign policy and diplomacy; Treasury handles money, taxes, and the debt; Defense runs the armed forces; Justice enforces federal law and runs the courts and FBI; and Education sets federal school policy and funding. Together these departments and their agencies form the bureaucracy — the millions of federal workers who carry out the law day to day. Because agencies, congressional committees, and interest groups often work closely together on the same issues, analysts call that relationship an 'iron triangle.'

LANGUAGE SUPPORT

Key terms to know first: Bureaucracy, Cabinet. Read once for the gist, then again for evidence.

Text-dependent questions (answer in the Evidence Lab below or aloud):

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.18 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

Americans do not elect the President directly. Instead, each state appoints electors — equal to its number of senators plus representatives — and those electors formally choose the President, with 270 of 538 needed to win. Alexander Hamilton defended the design in Federalist 68, arguing it let 'the sense of the people' operate while filtering the choice through informed electors. Because most states award all their electors winner-take-all, a candidate can win the national popular vote and still lose the Electoral College — which has happened and fuels an ongoing debate. Supporters say the system protects smaller states and forces national campaigns; critics say it can override the popular will and focuses attention on a few 'swing' states. If no candidate wins a majority, the House chooses the President. Whatever one concludes, the Electoral College shows the Framers' habit of balancing popular voice against structure.

How Strong Should the President Be? Perspectives on Executive Power

This section weighs a central tension of the office: energy in the executive versus the danger of one person holding too much power. It is Government Hack–authored instructional synthesis grounded in this unit's sourced record — not a primary source.

Energy in the Executive

Hamilton argued a single, energetic executive is essential to act decisively in war and crisis (Federalist 68/70; connects to GC.16).

Fear of a King

Anti-Federalists worried the presidency could become an elected monarchy — a fear that shaped term limits and impeachment (GC.16, connects to Unit 1 GC.04).

The Bureaucracy

Millions of federal employees in departments and agencies carry out the law day to day, raising questions about who really controls policy (GC.17).

The Electoral College

The winner of the most national votes has sometimes lost the presidency, sparking a lasting debate over how we choose a President (GC.18).

Unit Reflection

Return to the unit's big question: How much power should one person hold — and how is the presidency kept in check? Write a final claim with two pieces of evidence from different standards.
