★ TENNESSEE CONNECTION

One of the most famous civil-liberties trials in American history happened in Tennessee. In State of Tennessee v. Scopes (1925), a Dayton teacher named John Scopes was tried under the Butler Act for teaching evolution — the first U.S. law to ban it. The ACLU defended the case as a fight for academic freedom and free speech; Scopes was convicted, but the Tennessee Supreme Court later reversed the conviction on a technicality (GC.23).

*One common workbook designed for learner variability.
Every student works toward the same Tennessee standards; supports vary the means, not the goal or the ceiling.*

Before You Begin — Set a S.M.A.R.T. Goal

Strong learners set goals — but a goal only helps if it is built well. First learn how, then write yours.

WHAT MAKES A GOAL STRONG? Build it S.M.A.R.T.
S — Specific: say exactly what you will be able to do (“explain how a bill becomes law,” not “do well”).
M — Measurable: how will you PROVE it? — a score, a diagram, or teaching a partner.
A — Achievable: a real stretch you can reach with effort — not too easy, not impossible.
R — Relevant: it connects to this unit’s big question.
T — Time-bound: name WHEN — “by the end of this unit.”

SEE THE DIFFERENCE
Weak: “I want to do good in government.” (vague — nothing to measure)
S.M.A.R.T.: “By the end of this unit I can explain how the three branches check each other, and prove it by teaching a partner and scoring 80%+ on the check.”

This unit’s big question: How do the courts decide where your rights end and the government’s power begins?

BUILD YOURS — write each piece on the lines, then combine them at the bottom
Fill in each part of your goal. Use the lines.

Part of my goal	Write your piece on the lines
S — Specific: what exactly will I be able to do?
M — Measurable: how will I prove it? (a score, a diagram, teaching a partner)

A — Achievable: what effort will it take to reach it?
R — Relevant: how does it connect to the big question above?
T — Time-bound: by when?
PUT IT TOGETHER — my S.M.A.R.T. goal in one or two sentences:

Standard GC.23 — The First Amendment in Court

TN Academic Standard GC.23: Evaluate the Supreme Court's interpretations of the freedoms articulated in the 1st Amendment, including: Schenck v. United States; Engel v. Vitale; Tinker v. Des Moines; Lemon v. Kurtzman; New York Times v. United States; Miller v. California; Texas v. Johnson. (H, T)

LEARNING TARGETS — I can...

- I can evaluate how the Supreme Court has interpreted the First Amendment freedoms..

Lenses for this standard: History (H) · Tennessee (T)

CORE PATH — the same for every student

Every student works this standard at the same rigor: analyze the sources and vocabulary, then show what you learned on the Practice Quiz and the CER. Check yourself against the learning targets on the Cornell Notes page. Supports for each step are on the back of this page.

SET YOUR GOAL (self-direction)

My goal for this standard — what will I be able to do, and how will I show it? (Need help? See the back of this page.)

HOOK — think before you dig in

A silent armband, a burning flag, a banned book, a school prayer — the same 45 words protect or limit each one. Where does your freedom to express end?

ACTIVATE — what do you already know or wonder?

Jot what you already know or want to find out about this standard. You'll come back to it.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — before you dig in (you'll revisit this at the end)

In your own words: what do you think this standard is about, and why might it matter to you or your community? Write 2–3 sentences.

Getting Started — supports for this page — GC.23

WHAT “CORE PATH” MEANS

Everyone learns the same standard at the same level. “Support options” are just extra ways in — sentence starters, an example, a partner, or recording your answer. They help you reach the bar; they never lower it.

SET YOUR GOAL — how to write a strong one

Example goal: “By the end of this standard I can explain ___ and prove it by scoring 80%+ on the quiz.”

How to build it: name what you’ll DO, then how you’ll PROVE it, then WHEN.

Sentence starters: “I want to be able to...” “I’ll show it by...” “By the end of this standard...”

HOOK — sentence starters

“I think the big question is...” “This connects to...” “I wonder why...” “At first I believe...”

ACTIVATE — what it means & how to answer

What it means: “Activate” = wake up what you ALREADY know before you learn more.

Sentence starters: “I already know...” “This reminds me of...” “I want to find out...”

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — what to write

Just your honest first take — there is no wrong answer. Say what you THINK the standard is about and why it might matter to you, your family, or your community. You’ll come back and improve it at the end.

Guided Support for the Cornell Notes — GC.23

These scaffolds support ONLY the Cornell notes — use them to take and process those notes. Optional and easy to set aside; not a separate assignment or a label.

Key vocabulary	What it means
Clear and Present Danger	The test from Schenck v. United States (1919) allowing limits on speech that creates a real, immediate danger — such as falsely shouting fire in a crowded theater.
Establishment Clause	The First Amendment ban on the government establishing or favoring a religion, central to Engel v. Vitale and Lemon v. Kurtzman.
Symbolic Speech	Actions that express an idea — like wearing an armband (Tinker) or burning a flag (Texas v. Johnson) — that the First Amendment can protect.

Break it into steps:

- 1) Name one cause or effect.
- 2) Give one piece of evidence.
- 3) Write one sentence explaining the link.

Sentence frame

One key cause/effect of the first amendment in court was _____, shown by _____, which mattered because _____.

Modeled example (one worked note — yours will differ)

A key idea of the first amendment in court was Clear and Present Danger: The test from Schenck v. United States (1919) allowing limits on speech that creates a real, immediate danger — such as falsely shouting fire in a crowded theater.

GUIDED NOTE REHEARSAL LAB — practice ONE note,

TRANSFER CHECK — move one rehearsed idea onto the front notes

Light Support for the Cornell Notes — GC.23

Key vocabulary	Finish the idea — “This term means ...”
Clear and Present Danger
Establishment Clause
Symbolic Speech

Guiding questions — answer on the lines below (or in your front notes):

- According to Tinker, do students have free-speech rights at school? What is the limit?
- How do Engel v. Vitale and Lemon v. Kurtzman apply the Establishment Clause?
- How can burning a flag (Texas v. Johnson) be protected 'speech'?

WHICH CUE STILL NEEDS WORK?

Circle the Cornell cue from the front page you still need help with, and tell your teacher so we can go over it.

LIGHT PROCESSING LAB

Answer one guiding question from above in a full sentence, in your own words.

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.23 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The First Amendment protects speech, press, religion, assembly, and petition — but not without limits, and the Supreme Court draws the lines case by case. On speech, Schenck v. United States (1919) allowed limits on words that create a 'clear and present danger,' while Tinker v. Des Moines (1969) protected students' symbolic speech, ruling they do not 'shed their constitutional rights... at the schoolhouse gate,' and Texas v. Johnson (1989) protected even flag burning as symbolic speech. On religion, Engel v. Vitale (1962) barred official school prayer and Lemon v. Kurtzman (1971) set a test for church-state separation, both under the Establishment Clause. On press, New York Times v. United States (1971) blocked the government from stopping publication of the Pentagon Papers (no 'prior restraint'), and Miller v. California (1973) defined the narrow limits of obscenity. Together these cases show a Court constantly balancing individual liberty against government interest.

LANGUAGE SUPPORT

Key terms to know first: Clear and Present Danger, Establishment Clause. Read once for the gist, then again for evidence.

Text-dependent questions (answer in the Evidence Lab below or aloud):

1. According to Tinker, do students have free-speech rights at school? What is the limit?

2. How do Engel v. Vitale and Lemon v. Kurtzman apply the Establishment Clause?

3. How can burning a flag (Texas v. Johnson) be protected 'speech'?

RESPONSE CHOICE: answer any question by writing in the Evidence Lab, saying/recording it, or diagramming it.

Activity 5 — Primary Source / Data Analysis — GC.23

🕒 ~15 min

Primary source (document) — analyze it with HIPPO. Builds SSP.01-SSP.02.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Bill_of_Rights_Pg1of1_AC.jpg

FIRST LOOK — before you analyze

Jot 3-4 things you notice in the source (details, words, people, dates). No wrong answers.

HIPPO — analyze the source (prompt)	Your analysis
H — Historical context: what was happening when this was created?
I — Intended audience: who was meant to see or obey it?
P — Purpose: why was it created?
P — Point of view: whose perspective does it reflect?

Primary Source Analysis — go deeper — GC.23

SUPPORT OPTION (use if you need it)

Sentence frame: This source shows _____ because it _____, which reveals _____.

STRETCH — think like a test-writer (open to all)

Write your OWN DOK-3 question for this standard, then a one-sentence answer key. Use the supports below — everyone can do this.

HOW TO WRITE A DOK-3 QUESTION (supports)

DOK-3 = strategic thinking: the reader must analyze, compare, evaluate, or justify using evidence — and there should be more than one defensible answer (not a fact you can just look up).

Sentence starters: “Why did _____ lead to _____?” ·
“Which mattered more — _____ or _____ — and why?” ·
“What is the BEST evidence that _____?” · “Evaluate whether _____.” · “Defend or challenge: _____.”
Frame: [Analyze / Evaluate / Justify] + [something from
THIS standard] + “using evidence.”
Quick check: does my question make the reader THINK and use evidence? If yes, it’s DOK-3.

3 — Proficient	Clear	2 accurate	Explains the link
2 — Developing	General	1 accurate	Partial link
1 — Beginning	Unclear / missing	Missing / inaccurate	No reasoning

Guided Support for the Cornell Notes — GC.24

These scaffolds support ONLY the Cornell notes — use them to take and process those notes. Optional and easy to set aside; not a separate assignment or a label.

Key vocabulary	What it means
Second Amendment	The amendment protecting 'the right of the people to keep and bear Arms,' whose meaning has been debated between an individual right and a militia-based right.
Individual Right	A right held by each person, not only by a group; District of Columbia v. Heller (2008) read the Second Amendment as an individual right.
Incorporation	Applying a Bill of Rights protection to the states through the 14th Amendment; McDonald v. Chicago (2010) incorporated the Second Amendment.

Break it into steps:

- 1) Name one cause or effect. 2) Give one piece of evidence.
- 3) Write one sentence explaining the link.

Sentence frame

One key cause/effect of the second amendment in court was _____, shown by _____, which mattered because _____.

Modeled example (one worked note — yours will differ)

A key idea of the second amendment in court was Second Amendment: The amendment protecting 'the right of the people to keep and bear Arms,' whose meaning has been debated between an individual right and a militia-based right.

Guiding questions — answer on the lines below (or in your front notes):

- What did Heller decide, and how did McDonald extend it to the states?
- The Court said the right is 'not unlimited' — what kinds of regulation might still be allowed?

LIGHT PROCESSING LAB

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.24 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The Second Amendment's single sentence has produced one of the country's longest debates: does 'the right of the people to keep and bear Arms' belong to individuals, or only to a 'well regulated Militia'? For most of American history the question stayed unsettled. In District of Columbia v. Heller (2008), the Supreme Court held that the amendment protects an individual right to keep and bear arms for lawful purposes such as self-defense, striking down a strict handgun ban in the federal district. Two years later, McDonald v. Chicago (2010) applied that right to the states through incorporation under the 14th Amendment. The Court also made clear the right is not unlimited — governments may still regulate who may carry, where, and how. The debate over where to draw those lines continues in legislatures and courts today.

LANGUAGE SUPPORT

Key terms to know first: Second Amendment, Individual Right. Read once for the gist, then again for evidence.

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The 4th through 8th Amendments protect people accused of crimes, and three landmark cases put those protections into practice. Mapp v. Ohio (1961) enforced the 4th Amendment's ban on unreasonable searches with the exclusionary rule: evidence found through an illegal search cannot be used in court. Gideon v. Wainwright (1963) enforced the 6th Amendment's right to counsel, holding that 'any person haled into court, who is too poor to hire a lawyer, cannot be assured a fair trial unless counsel is provided for him' — so states must provide attorneys to those who cannot afford one. Miranda v. Arizona (1966) enforced the 5th Amendment right against self-incrimination, requiring police to warn suspects of their right to remain silent and to a lawyer — the 'Miranda rights.' Together these rulings show the Court applying the Bill of Rights to protect the individual against the power of the state.

Standard GC.26 — The 14th Amendment — Equal Protection & Due Process

TN Academic Standard GC.26: Evaluate the Supreme Court's interpretations of the freedoms in the 14th Amendment, equal protection, and due process clauses, including: Plessy v. Ferguson; Gitlow v. New York; Brown v. Board of Education; Obergefell v. Hodges. (—)

LEARNING TARGETS — I can...

- I can evaluate how the Supreme Court has interpreted the 14th Amendment's equal protection and due process clauses..

Lenses for this standard: Equal Protection

CORE PATH — the same for every student

Every student works this standard at the same rigor: analyze the sources and vocabulary, then show what you learned on the Practice Quiz and the CER. Check yourself against the learning targets on the Cornell Notes page. Supports for each step are on the back of this page.

SET YOUR GOAL (self-direction)

My goal for this standard — what will I be able to do, and how will I show it? (Need help? See the back of this page.)

HOOK — think before you dig in

The same 14th Amendment once allowed 'separate but equal' — and later ended it. How can the identical words mean opposite things fifty years apart?

ACTIVATE — what do you already know or wonder?

Jot what you already know or want to find out about this standard. You'll come back to it.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — before you dig in (you'll revisit this at the end)

In your own words: what do you think this standard is about, and why might it matter to you or your community? Write 2–3 sentences.

Getting Started — supports for this page — GC.26

WHAT “CORE PATH” MEANS

Everyone learns the same standard at the same level. “Support options” are just extra ways in — sentence starters, an example, a partner, or recording your answer. They help you reach the bar; they never lower it.

SET YOUR GOAL — how to write a strong one

Example goal: “By the end of this standard I can explain ___ and prove it by scoring 80%+ on the quiz.”

How to build it: name what you’ll DO, then how you’ll PROVE it, then WHEN.

Sentence starters: “I want to be able to...” “I’ll show it by...” “By the end of this standard...”

HOOK — sentence starters

“I think the big question is...” “This connects to...” “I wonder why...” “At first I believe...”

ACTIVATE — what it means & how to answer

What it means: “Activate” = wake up what you ALREADY know before you learn more.

Sentence starters: “I already know...” “This reminds me of...” “I want to find out...”

FIRST IMPRESSIONS — what to write

Just your honest first take — there is no wrong answer. Say what you THINK the standard is about and why it might matter to you, your family, or your community. You’ll come back and improve it at the end.

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.26 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The 14th Amendment (1868) transformed the Constitution by promising that no state may deny any person 'due process of law' or 'the equal protection of the laws.' Its meaning has been fought over ever since. In Plessy v. Ferguson (1896) the Court allowed 'separate but equal' segregation — a reading that stood for decades. Gitlow v. New York (1925) began 'incorporation,' using the 14th Amendment's due process clause to apply Bill of Rights protections to the states. Then Brown v. Board of Education (1954) reversed Plessy, holding that 'separate educational facilities are inherently unequal' and violate equal protection. Decades later, Obergefell v. Hodges (2015) held that the due process and equal protection clauses protect the right to marry for same-sex couples. Across these cases, the same two clauses have been read in dramatically different ways — proof that the Constitution's meaning is decided by people, over time.

LANGUAGE SUPPORT

Activity 4 — Close Read — GC.27 ~15 min

Reading type: Government Hack-authored instructional synthesis. This is not a primary source. Builds SSP.03 (synthesize) and SSP.05 (historical awareness).

CORE PATH

The Constitution's promise of equal protection has been extended over time by laws and court decisions that reached groups long left out. Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 declared that 'no person... shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in... any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance' — reshaping opportunity in schools, including athletics. The Americans with Disabilities Act (1990) barred discrimination against people with disabilities and required reasonable accommodations in jobs, public services, and public places. Court cases added both progress and cautionary lessons: Korematsu v. United States (1944) upheld the wartime incarceration of Japanese Americans — now widely condemned — while later rulings like Adarand Constructors v. Peña (1995) shaped how the government may address past discrimination. Together, these laws and cases show the 'expanding circle' of American rights — and how hard-won and contested each step has been.

RESPONSE CHOICE

Commit to an answer by marking it, saying it, or explaining it aloud before checking. Answer key is in the Teacher Guide (kept separate).

[DOK 1 · item u6-gc27-dok1-1 · pre-field-test]

The 1990 law protecting people with disabilities is the:

- A. Title IX
- B. Americans with Disabilities Act
- C. Voting Rights Act
- D. Butler Act

[DOK 2 · item u1-gc27-dok2-tc · pre-field-test]

What does Title IX (1972) prohibit?

- A. Discrimination based on sex in federally funded education programs
- B. All private-school tuition
- C. The teaching of history
- D. Voting by people under 21

STRETCH — think like a test-writer (open to all)

Write your OWN DOK-3 question for this standard, then a one-sentence answer key. Use the supports below — everyone can do this.

HOW TO WRITE A DOK-3 QUESTION (supports)

DOK-3 = strategic thinking: the reader must analyze, compare, evaluate, or justify using evidence — and there should be more than one defensible answer (not a fact you can just look up).

Sentence starters: “Why did _____ lead to _____?” ·

“Which mattered more — _____ or _____ — and why?” ·
“What is the BEST evidence that _____?” · “Evaluate whether _____.” · “Defend or challenge: _____.”

Frame: [Analyze / Evaluate / Justify] + [something from
THIS standard] + “using evidence.”

Quick check: does my question make the reader THINK
and use evidence? If yes, it’s DOK-3.

YOUR ANSWER KEY — one clear, defensible sentence

Activity 7 — Constructed Response (CER)

— GC.27 ~15 min

BIG-QUESTION ORGANIZER (before you write) — How do the courts decide where your rights end and the government's power begins?

Plan your argument here, then use it to write your claim, evidence, and reasoning below.

Plan your argument	Your quick notes (from this standard)
My claim (answer the prompt)
Evidence 1 (a source or fact)
Reasoning (why it proves the claim)

CONSTRUCTED RESPONSE (CER) — builds SSP.04 Argumentation

Claim + Evidence + Reasoning: Which did more to expand rights for underserved groups — legislation like Title IX and the ADA, or Supreme Court rulings? Defend your claim with evidence.

Constructed Response — self-grade & supports — GC.27

SELF-GRADE — score your own CER against the rubric below

Reread your response, then circle the level that best fits each part. Being honest here is how you level up.

Level	Claim	Evidence	Reasoning
4 — Strong	Precise, defensible	2+ accurate, specific	Explains HOW evidence proves the claim
3 — Proficient	Clear	2 accurate	Explains the link
2 — Developing	General	1 accurate	Partial link
1 — Beginning	Unclear / missing	Missing / inaccurate	No reasoning

MY SCORE

Claim: ____ / 4 Evidence: ____ / 4 Reasoning: ____ / 4
TOTAL: ____ / 12

SUPPORTS — sentence frames (use if you need them)

Claim: “_____ because _____.”

Evidence: “One example is _____ (from _____). Another is _____.”

Reasoning: “This proves my claim because _____, which shows _____.”

REVISE — make your lowest-scoring part stronger

Pick the part you scored lowest and rewrite it here — better:

Your Tennessee Connection

★ TENNESSEE CONNECTION

One of the most famous civil-liberties trials in American history happened in Tennessee. In State of Tennessee v. Scopes (1925), a Dayton teacher named John Scopes was tried under the Butler Act for teaching evolution — the first U.S. law to ban it. The ACLU defended the case as a fight for academic freedom and free speech; Scopes was convicted, but the Tennessee Supreme Court later reversed the conviction on a technicality (GC.23).

Reflect (RESPONSE CHOICE): How does a Tennessee connection change the way you understand a national idea? Answer by writing, recording, or diagramming.

Tennessee Civics Investigation

Tennessee was the stage for a landmark free-speech and academic-freedom fight. Investigate one right protected by the First Amendment and one way it is debated in schools today, and record what you find with a source.

Whose Liberty? Perspectives on Rights

This section traces how the meaning of the Bill of Rights has been fought over case by case — expanded for some, contested by others, and applied to the states over time. It is Government Hack–authored instructional synthesis grounded in this unit's sourced record — not a primary source.

The Individual vs. the State

Nearly every case here pits one person's liberty — to speak, protest, worship, remain silent, or be treated equally — against a government's claim of order or authority (GC.23–GC.26).

Incorporation

Through the 14th Amendment, the Supreme Court gradually applied the Bill of Rights to the states, so protections once binding only the federal government now bind all governments (GC.26).

The Expanding Circle

Legislation and rulings extended rights to groups long left out — by race, sex, and disability — through Brown, Title IX, the ADA, and more (GC.26, GC.27).

Security vs. Liberty

Cases from Schenck to Korematsu show the Court sometimes narrowing rights in the name of security — a tension every generation revisits (GC.23, GC.27).

Unit Reflection

Return to the unit’s big question: How do the courts decide where your rights end and the government's power begins? Write a final claim with two pieces of evidence from different standards.
